Hongkors, July 21st, 1890.

A TELEGRAM published in our news by the Canadian mail on Saturday stated that France "will probably admit the principle foundland in return for absolute control Siam and Madagascar." So far as Siam statement is purely imaginative. A section life in their own way. Until ther had corried of French officials have it is true, long been in the slums of their great cities they need not casting covetous eyes on Siam, which they go so far affeld. SALISBURY that an imaginary line should be in the corresponding half of last year, showing a drawn down the middle of Siam and that decrease of $15,076.4. The largest item of decrease is under head of transfer of shares. the country to the west should be considered amounting to $8,383 0, closely followed by that the sphere of British interests and that to the un'er head of conveyances or assignments east the sphere of French interests. What reply Lord Salisbury gave is not stated, against these decreases are an increase ina free and independent state, which so far duty $1,846.99; charter party, $547.00; and bills has given no just excuse for foreign inter- of leding, $528.90 vention, it is scarcely probable that the proposal if ever made could have been seriously enter aided. It is perhaps not altogether incredible that such a proposal should have come from. France at the time the Tonkin fever was at its height, but since then affairs in Tonkin have not gone so smoothly as to enamour France of any similar undertaking. Siam would, moreover, be a much more difficult country than Tonkin to appropriate. In the latter country France had a free hand, as there were no other treaty powers to be reckoned with except Spain, whose interests were purely nominal; whereas Slam White Cotton SUN UMBRELLAS, Lined see the country annexed and a policy adopted aiming at the exclusion of all foreign trade save that of France, as in Tonkin and Annam. Surveys are at the bresent time being made for railways. Following the example of Japan measures have been taken to secure the representation of Siamese interests in the Press, and that the Government is not disposed to brook calumny and misrepresentation where it can butted is shown by the prosecution of the The same being specially rejected by our Siam Mercantile Gazette, which resulted in the conviction of the editor of that icurnal. by ourselves, thus enabling us to supply the best. Siam is evidently alive to the protection of her own interests and would not allow herself to be annexed without a struggle.

A stop ought certainly by some means to be put to the depositing of rubbish in the harbour, but to sentence the unfortunate coolies who are detected in the act to the stocks, as is the wont of Mr. Robinson. Police Magistrate, sayours somewhat too strongly of barbarism. The stocks, like whipping, are a punishment that ought to be reserved for serious crime and ought not to be employed in cases of simple misdemeanour involving no question of morals. Only criminals ought to be put in the stocks, and no one could say a man was necessarily wicked because he threw a basket of rubbish over the Praya wall. Mr. Robinson, however, scepes to think the offence falls in the same category as that of indecent assault on a girl and mposes the punishment of the stocks in both cases. Indiscretions of this kind are calculated to exasperate the labouring population and cultivate hatred towards the Government. The stocks are regarded by the Chinese as a disgraceful punishment, and they Per Case, Per Case. ought to be used only in the case of disgrace.

> In the German Consular Court for Siam the Sth just, the case of the Siamese Government brilliant ceremony. against Mr. Gotte came on for trial. The de fendant is the editor and publisher of the Siam Mercantile Gasette, and the charge was (1) That he did publish in his paper of the 8th of February, 1890, a libellous article entitled "Mrs. B. M. Green on Siam, of a most personal pature, on and concerning His Majesty the King of Siam, thereby committing an offence against Article 108 of the German Ponal Cude which enacts that "whosever is guilty of the offence of publishing a seditious libel Sovereign or Regent of a State, not belonging to the German Empire, shall be punished wit imprisonment from one week to two years, or with detention in a fortress for the same period, provided always that such States guarantees reciprocity to the German Empire." (2) That he did feisely publish in his paper Royal Cremation and the Corvee," affecting the Sixtness Government, and tending to create disranguillity of the realm, thereby committing an offence against Article 186 of the German Penal Code, which is punishable by fine or imprisonment. The defendant pleaded that he never had any intantion to insult the King; that for the last four months, in many leading articles, he had praised up His Majesty and the Government: that in exposing what he thought was wrong, he considered he was fulfilling his duty as editor. The Court gave the following judgment. -That the charge of libel is sustained and that the defendant be imprisoned for ten days fortress and be ordered to pay all costs of the enquiry, that this judgment be published in the Official Covernment Casette at his cost, and that all copies of the libellous issue of the paper available shall be destroyed.

The United States Statistical Bureau has cently published a tolume which contains, amongst other matter, some data respecting the ationalities of immigrants into the United States from 1820 to 1888. Our readers will be specially interested in the results of the investiration, so far as Chinese immigration is con-Until 1854 very few Chinese went to the United States; but in that year, attracted probably by the gold steries of California, the irst grand invasion came the total number being no less than 18,000. In subsequent years e annual immigration from China varied between 4. 00 and 7.000. When in 1892 no fewer readers know, a ston was put to the influx of hinege by a law which it seems has proved very effective, for in the following year only 381 Chi ness immigrated, and lines then, so far as official record shows, only very few.

The official statistics recently received the localed memberns trade of India present several features of interest in relation to the business done with China. The floures show that China still continues to take most of the yara span for export in the Indian mills. Last year there was an increase of nearly 13,000,000 los in the quantity exported to China compared almost exactly accounted for by the growth in the shipments to that country. Japan, however, shows a small felling off which may be partly ascribed to the inactive condition of that market for some time past, and partly sompatition of the new colton mills in Japan seem to have undergone something like collapse last year. In 1888-89 they amounted to over 14,500,000 yards, and in 1889-80 they year; as most of our readers well know; special to cultivate the thing trade. These however ppear to have been unsuccessful, and the apcompetitor in the supply of drills to the China market appear to be entirely without foundation.

In Gilbert and Sullivan's operas the performances have been of somewhat an udeven nature. "The Mikado" was, on the whole, the best of the productions of these collaborators, "Pirates of Pensance" and "Pinafore " being but only fair performances. In other pieces it has more than once occurred, that they have been made noteworthy by the per formances of some individual actor. One of the most difficult pieces produced, "The Yeoman of the Gnard," was noticeable in consequence of Mr. Harry Pyne's clever impersonation the Jester, one of the most finished interpretations he has given here; "Les Cloches des Corneville again gave Mr. Fletcher, as Gaspard, an appor tunity of showing what he can do and which he was not slow to take advantage of, and so in other piaces; while "Struck Oil," a bisce of little merit, was rendered interesting by Mr Driscoll's clever rendering of the part of John Stofel. ## THE TRADE OF TONKIN.

The report of the Resident at Hanoi, addresse to the Governor-General of Indo China, on the commercial position of Tonkin on Jan. 1, 1890. official view of the progress and value of the colony. The following extracts are called from it: —

The products of Yunnan and Kwangsi have thern provinces of China. Again, raw oplum has been exempted from all duties for transit across the countries of the protectorate. This exemption. by permitting the free transit of a product which is the chief source of trade between Tonkin and China, will facilitate the commercial relations I on the frontier, and will re-establish the equilibring of trade. Another source of prosperity for Conkin is assured to it for the future; the coal deposits of K-bao and Tourane are being worked in order to test the quality of these combustibles. As regards the statistics of imports and exports for the year 1839 the official returns show that the value of the imports amounted to 1.23,752,484; exports f.13.372.852. In 1883 the value of the imports amounted to f.28.243.332, and the exports to 1.10,360 632. It should be observed that the large amount of the imports in 1883 was in part due to the provisioning of the military forces, which have since been largely reduced in consequence of the peaceful state of the country, and that consequently the difference in favour of 1889 is in reality. from a commercial point of view, more important than would seem to result from the preceding figures.

On the other hand, the exports show on incr. age over the preceding year of three millions of france, which denotes a constant improvement year will be put under cultivation, that, further, the ocal deposits are being worked over an area made of 150 heotares of deposits of antimony, of 200 hectares of argentiferous lands and some suriferous deposits, the working of which is in course of organisation, it will be evident that considerable progress has been made, and that at the conclusion of the present year a still further increase will be observed in the imports and exports. Finally, the delay of the Chinese Government in opening up its frontier places to trade with Tonkin obliges us to consider as almost nil the export trade up to the present time on the frontier of Yunnan, whilst everything points to a consideable development in the present year. Langson Railerry, and the improvement of the course of the Upper Red River should only encourage Tonkin merchants to enter relations with their neighbours.

Under the head of agriculture recent experiments have shown that the culture of the sugar cane may be adopted ence safully in the country. Experiments have been made and results hitherto recent available and an inferior raw material prove that the climate of Tonkin is ad cane. The distillation of rice should also be a successful and profitable industry, and it will secure an outlet for the chief agricultural production of the country, and bring about the ex-5.—All measurements of piece-goods shall be tension of an easy and old-estab ished culture. INGLISH AND CHINE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PURTI AND MANDARIN

PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chineso Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous ohjects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have beretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work th following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst. moderate prices at this work contains more than 50,000. English.
THE "DAILY PRESS" OFFICE. words, and unwards of 600,000 Chinese charac-All proofs are read and all work ters. Again, despite all the grammars and superintended by Europeans. Always other elementary works as yet published, the equal and generally superior to that student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-
